Housing and Other Critical Sectors: Assessing and Building Our Economy

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. When was the last time community leaders gathered to review the “state of the community”?
2. Who would be the right people to have assembled to listen and react? ... How might this be organized?
3. What sorts of information (economic, demographic, etc.) would you feature?
4. If you need to prioritize our efforts, what are the issues most pressing in the community that you need to gather evidence about?
5. What comparable places would it make sense to compare your community against?
6. Who would you work with and where would you get this data?
