

RISK MANAGEMENT PROCESS

4-H Youth Development

April 2005

Risk Management is Important

- to insure the safety of the youth and adult program participants
- as an educational component of 4-H Youth Development work
- to help evaluate allocation of resources (time, money, etc.)
- to help focus our energies on achieving our mission

Risk Management Process

- Phase 1: Identify the potential areas of risk
Evaluate and rank the top 2 to 5 areas to work with
- Phase 2: Risk Control: Reduce, Avoid, Transfer or Assume Consider the financing issues including time, money and other resources
Communicate the information to those who need to know
- Phase 3: Monitor your plan, evaluate and make changes to reduce future risks

An EEO/AA employer, University of Wisconsin-Extension provides equal opportunities in employment and programming, including Title IX and American with Disabilities (ADA) requirements. © 2005 by the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin System. Developed by the Wisconsin 4-H Office, 431 Lowell Hall, 610 Langdon St., Madison, WI 53703. The 4-H name and emblem are federally protected under Title 18 US Code 707.