

Specialist Biographical Information

*Ken Genskow
Assistant
Professor, URPL
Director, Basin
Education
Initiative*

Ken Genskow

Assistant Professor, UW-Madison, Dept of Urban & Regional Planning

Director, UWEX Basin Education Initiative, Environmental Resources Center

Hiram Smith Hall, Room 210

1545 Observatory Dr

Madison, Wisconsin 53706

Phone: 608-262-8756

Email: kgenskow@wisc.edu

For more information, visit these websites:

<http://www.urpl.wisc.edu/people/genskow/>

<http://basineducation.uwex.edu/>

Programming Areas

- Water resources policy and planning
- Watershed planning and evaluation
- Integrated & collaborative natural resources management
- Natural resources education program development & evaluation

Audience and Partners

- Organizations addressing watershed management and water resource issues
- Local, state, and federal resource management agencies and staff
- Extension faculty & staff

Team Membership

- CNRED Support
- Natural Resources – Water - Stormwater
- Natural Resources – Water – General

Educational Resources

Publications

- 2005, Developing a Social Component for the NPS Evaluation

Framework. With R. Shepard and R. Power.

- 2003, Dane County Stormwater Assessment: Final Report. With T. Syring.
- 2001, Toward Understanding the New Watershed Approach. With S. Born.
- 2000, The Watershed Approach—An Empirical Assessment of Innovation in Environmental Management. With S. Born.

Workshops, Wislines and Other Programs

- 2005, Developing a Social Component of the NPS Evaluation Framework. With R. Power, L. Prokopy, K. McDermaid.
- 2006, New Community Storm Water Regulations. With D. Liebl, E. Rortvedt, and others.

Online Tools

- Under development. Program Evaluation for Non-point Source Management Initiatives.

Research and Outreach

- Developing a Social Component for NPS Program Evaluation. <http://www.uwex.edu/ces/regionalwaterquality/Flagships/Indicators.htm>
- Collaborative partnerships for natural resources management. Exploring effectiveness and accomplishments of collaborative watershed management initiatives.