Your contribution is greatly appreciated by all members of the 4-H Horse Project. Your name and/or company will be announced during the Columbia County Fair horse shows and will be posted in writing during the shows and on the UW-Extension website. Your contribution will not go directly to the youth member, but will be used to supply a quality program to the entire 4-H Horse Project membership.

The Columbia County 4-H Horse Council is chartered under Columbia County 4-H. As with all 4-H programs, the horse project provides members an opportunity to have fun, develop new skills, become leaders, help in their community and create an environment focused on learning. Horse project membership is increasing in Columbia County with more than 100 participants annually. Specific skills developed by youth involved in the horse project include:

- Discipline and responsibility
- Setting goals and meeting deadlines
- Problem solving
- Sportsmanship
- Establishing work ethic
- Making and meeting commitments
- Horsemanship including training techniques and methods

Note: 4-H is a non-profit organization. Your contribution is tax deductible. As a chartered affiliate 4-H organization under the control of Cooperative Extension, the Columbia County 4-H Horse Council is eligible for inclusion as a subsidiary of National 4-H special exemption from federal income tax under the provisions which correspond to section 501(c)(3) of the IRS Code.
