What's the Story Behind the KEWAUNEE COUNTY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION?

The 2001 Kewaunee County Business Retention & Expansion Study tells us that our county needs "an aggressive county-based economic development program to help businesses plan for future growth."

Kewaunee County is a great place to live offering:

- High quality of life.
- Neighbors who take care of each other.
- Scenic rural and lakeshore beauty second to none.

Essential to our quality of life is a thriving business community creating Jobs, Profits, Tax Base, Incomes, and a Stronger Area Economy.

Economic Development Corporations make a difference in 68 of Wisconsin's 72 counties providing high quality programs that offer technical, financial and educational resources to all types of local businesses.

Over the last few years, your neighbors, local business leaders, and government representatives have built the foundation for Kewaunee County to adopt this same pro-active approach.

We can hope that successful businesses will happen. Or, we can roll up our sleeves and work together to ensure their success.

Now, the Kewaunee County Economic Development Corporation brings together private and public partners who are working to make a difference.

The Corporation is a true public-private partnership.

Investors from the private and public sectors – banks, businesses, utilities, county, cities, villages and towns – have generously supported this emerging force for community improvement.

Each of these partners believes that a stronger Kewaunee County economy is worth their investment of time and money.
