These workshops will provide citizens the opportunity to identify their hopes and concerns for the future of Portage County and their community. All persons are encouraged to attend one of these sessions to express their opinions on how Portage County should look and what actions can be taken to improve the community in the future. Workshop participants will be asked to consider two questions: “What concerns do you have about your community?” and “What hopes do you have for your community?”. Citizen participation is central to this planning process and the Comprehensive Planning Committee is asking for your input in shaping the future of your community.
