Strengths-Based Supervision

About the Facilitator

Polly Snodgrass, RN, is a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College Hospital School of Nursing in Philadelphia, PA. Polly has long history of leadership and success in bringing together resources to serve children and families at risk. She pioneered a family-directed, family-centered approach to supporting young children in families headed by parents with disabilities, and served as its director for 11 years. Polly is nationally recognized speaker, trainer and consultant to governments, academia, clinicians, and support programs.

Who Should Attend

Supervisors who support home visitors.

“Family Foundations” fees are grant supported. All others are welcome to register by requesting a fee-based brochure from elaine.barrett@ces.uwex.edu.

What supervisors will learn...

This is a workshop designed by home visiting supervisors, for home visiting supervisors. Drawing from your collective expressed needs and her own experience in the field, Polly has put together a workshop that helps you take strengths-based practice to a new level: the level of supervision and program management. You'll leave feeling better than you did when you came. Come prepared to share your experience with others as well.

Topics Include:

- Giving feedback in a strengths-based way
- Professional Development - the before, during and after. How to get the “bang for the buck” from training using pre-training reading/discussions; supporting staff during workshops, post-training downloading of information, and sharing with others.
- The in and outs of mentoring. Do you have a succession plan?
- Using Children's Trust Fund's Professional Development Portfolios effectively
Get your portfolio by calling 1/866-640-3936
- And more!
