

Wisconsin Barn Raising Project

Photographed and Submitted by: Chelcie L. Puetz

Location: North of Co. Tr. K and O intersection
(Chippewa County)

I like that it is a long, older barn, and that it has an old silo and a brand new silo.

The barn has a grey shingled, dome roof. The front of the barn has white painted wood to where the roof ends. The rest of the barn is all made of stone. It also has a stone and a metal silo. Since there are machines for baling hay, I suspect they grow their own hay. They also probably raise dairy cows and milk them. It is snowing in this picture.
