

Wisconsin Barn Raising Project

Photographed and Submitted by: Chelcie L. Puetz

Location: 19198 40th Avenue (Chippewa County)

This is my other favorite barn because it is old and falling apart. It is also kind of rare to see a really old barn still with its silo, and the silo is made of wood.

The barn has a gray shingled roof. Its wood is now gray because of old age. It also has a stone bottom, like many other old ones. It has like an addition on the front of it. This barn is currently not being used for anything. It is also snowing in the background while I took the picture.
